

User story for Emily:

- As a student, Emily wants to be able to view population information by continent, country, and city, so that she can use it for her geography class project.
- As a student, Emily wants to be able to filter population information by language, so that she can see which countries speak a certain language.
- As a student, Emily wants to be able to see the percentage of the world population that speaks a particular language, so that she can gain insights for her geography project.